

VPRI Research Digest Quick Guide

Primary audience: Research faculty at UBCV & UBCO

Purpose: to collate information across the VPRI portfolio units to help inform the research community of upcoming funding deadlines, new opportunities, events and workshops supported through the VPRI portfolio, and to provide key service updates. The idea is to consolidate the information into one source to eliminate the need to search multiple websites or receive multiple newsletters.

Content should:

- Be relevant to multiple faculties/disciplines
- Prioritize useful over interesting
- Be targeted to research faculty. Information to support new faculty and early-career researchers is particularly welcomed.
- Wherever possible, exist on a website within the VPRI portfolio that can be linked to from the digest
- UBC competitions or initiatives originating outside of the portfolio can be considered if particularly relevant to the research community.
- Highlight the resources/services of the VPRI portfolio, whenever and wherever possible
- Provide a UBC context for information coming from external agencies (e.g. provide links to content on ORS/IPO/SPARC websites about federal competitions to highlight UBC internal deadlines and processes rather than link to a page on Tri-agency/CFI sites)
- Be new opportunities (after initial posting they will reappear as deadline reminders in later editions)

Content includes:

- Internal awards, competitions and funding opportunities (e.g. Eminence clusters)
- External awards/honours (e.g. Order of Canada, Volvo Environment Prize, etc.)
- New major funding opportunities (note any internal deadlines)
- New UBC services, major updates to UBC services/programs that support researchers
- Workshops, programs, events for researchers
- New resources from the Tri-Agencies, CFI, Canada Research Coordinating Committee/other federal or national bodies of high relevance to UBC researchers
- News about/for the research community with an institution-wide relevance
